

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Nearly Ready

Problems in Political Evolution

By RAYMOND G. GETTELL

Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

This volume is an attempt to formulate, and to trace the evolution of, the fundamental problems of government. Drawing material from many sources and applying scientific methods of treatment, the author brings out clearly the evolutionary nature of political progress, the connection between institutions and environment, and the constant need for adjustment and compromise in political development.

Among the questions considered are the nature of the state; the leading factors in political development; the relations of the state to the family, the church, industrial organizations, and military organizations; the relations of State to State and of State to individual; and present political conditions and tendencies. At a time when social and political questions are arousing so great an interest, this discussion of the basic principles of political organization, its past development, its present conditions, and its future needs will prove of great practical value.

By the Same Author

Introduction to Political Science

8vo, xx + 421 pages, $2.00

Part One traces the rise and growth of political institutions; Part Two is a study of the existing government in leading modern states; and Part Three deals with the theoretical questions of the proper sphere of governmental activity. The treatment throughout is concise, clear, and teachable. The book will be found particularly illuminating upon the important questions with which, in modern democracies, all good citizens should be familiar.

Readings in Political Science

8vo, xlii + 525 pages, $2.25

This is the first book of readings in political science to be published. It comprises extracts from official documents, contemporary sources, and leading modern authorities and affords a comprehensive survey of the whole subject. It is intended to supplement any regular textbook in political science and to serve as a basis for classroom investigation and further reading and study.

---

GINN AND COMPANY, Publishers

BOSTON    NEW YORK    CHICAGO    LONDON

Selections and Documents in Economics

---

Edited by Professor William Z. Ripley
of Harvard University

---

Railway Problems. (Revised edition). xxxiv+825 pages. $2.50.

A collection of reprints, with maps and introduction by WILLIAM Z. RIPLEY, Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

The revised edition of this standard work is just published. It contains substantial additions from the literature that has appeared since the publication of the first edition, omits some obsolete material, and provides many new maps. Among the additions may be mentioned selections from Pearson's "American Railroad Builder," recent significant opinions of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the proceedings dissolving the Union-Southern Pacific merger.

Trusts, Pools, and Corporations. 477 pages. $1.80.

With an introduction by WILLIAM Z. RIPLEY, Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

Selected Readings in Public Finance. 671 pages. $2.25.

By CHARLES J. BULLOCK, Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

Trade Unionism and Labor Problems. 628 pages. $2.00.

Edited, with an introduction, by JOHN R. COMMONS, Professor of Political Economy, University of Wisconsin.

Sociology and Social Progress. 810 pages. $2.75.

A handbook for students of sociology, by THOMAS NIXON CARVER, Professor of Political Economy, Harvard University.

Selected Readings in Economics. 705 pages. $2.25.

By CHARLES J. BULLOCK, Professor of Economics, Harvard University.

Selections from the Economic History of the United States. 819 pages. $2.75.

With introductory essays, by GUY STEVENS CALLENDER, Professor of Political Economy, Yale University.

---

GINN AND COMPANY, Publishers
BOSTON      NEW YORK      CHICAGO      LONDON